

FORTUNE

10.27.08

Volume 158, Number 7

80
CAR COUNTRY
↓

→
42
LEGACY ON THE LINE

FEATURES

THE ECONOMY IN CRISIS

42 Is GE Okay?

For years GE Capital's profits powered its parent's earnings and helped finance its vast array of businesses. Now GE's biggest asset has turned into a liability that puts the future of the entire company at risk.

BY GEOFF COLVIN AND KATIE BENNER

52 We Can Beat This

The bailout, the bully pulpit—nothing seems to work. Are we headed for a depression? Doubtful. Bernanke & Co. really have learned from history, and they have plenty of options left.

59 Trash-Talking in Europe

In the financial capitals of the EU, some are smirking over the U.S. mess. But we've all been playing the same risky game.

61 The New New Deal

The era of small government is dead. We need a strong, skillful Washington again to start rebuilding America from the ground up. Here's how we can do it—and how we can pay for it.

BY JEFFREY D. SACHS

67 Wall Street's New Gambler

When Lehman tanked, Barclays saw a juicy opportunity and snatched it up. Now the London bank has problems of its own.

BY PETER GUMBEL AND BARNEY GIMBEL

70 Why Talent Is Overrated

The conventional wisdom about "the natural" is a myth. The real path to great performance is a matter of choice. The question is: How bad do you want it? An exclusive book excerpt.

BY GEOFF COLVIN

80 The New Motor City

The future of the global auto industry is already on display in Santiago, Chile. And the Chinese—who else?—are making huge inroads.

BY ALEX TAYLOR III

FORTUNE

Volume 158, Number 7

20
SMOOTH
TALKER
→

26
SKYPE
HYPE
↓

10
PICKING UP THE TAB

FIRST

10 Being Buffeted

What's in Warren's wallet? Goldman's Lloyd Blankfein is lucky enough to know.

BY SCOTT CENDROWSKI

12 Law & Order Looks at I-Banks

The TV show rips plot lines from the market crisis.

BY JIA LYNN YANG

12 The Blame Game

A handy-dandy guide to who cratered the market.

BY BETH KOWITT

12 hi5 Guns for Facebook

Meet the San Francisco-based social-networking site that has risen to become the world's third-most-trafficked.

BY JESSI HEMPEL

13 The Deal

For future use: some long-term numbers to file away—until you emerge from the bunker.

BY ALLAN SLOAN

14 Saudi Aramco's Sunny Outlook

Tons of oil! Reserves aplenty! Sounds too good to be true.

BY MATTHEW SIMMONS

16 World's Most Admired Companies

Medco's big bio bet.

BY MINA KIMES

18 The Three-Minute Manager

What's the secret to running great meetings?

BY JIA LYNN YANG

20 Road Warrior

Jim Nantz of CBS Sports gives the play-by-play for his life on the road.

BY SCOTT GUMMER

TECHNOLOGY

23 Google and Yahoo Fight With the Feds

Yahoo's ad alliance with Google seems like a great deal to Messrs. Brin, Page, and Yang. Now they just have to win over the Justice Department.

BY ROGER PARLOFF

24 Does WiMax Work?

Yes—in Baltimore, at least. Our correspondent goes on a dry run in the Inner Harbor.

BY JIA LYNN YANG

26 Is Skype on Sale at eBay?

eBay overpaid, but Skype is a good business with improving revenues. Buyers? Maybe Microsoft, Google, or a big telco.

BY ADAM LASHINSKY

30 Sports + Tech = $$

Sportvision brought TV sports the strike box and the yellow first-down line. On deck: bringing fans inside real-time pro games.

BY JEFFREY M. O'BRIEN

2 EDITOR'S DESK

8 LETTERS

86 BING!